Careers Event Returns – Free Expo to Connect Jobseekers with Real Opportunities

The Hobart and Southern Tasmania Employment & Careers Expo will return on Tuesday 24 March 2026, bringing together employers, training organisations and jobseekers from across the region at MyState Bank Arena.

The free event is being delivered by the Glenorchy Jobs Hub, with funding support from Glenorchy City Council and the City of Hobart, and is designed to connect people with real employment, training and career pathway opportunities.

The Expo will feature more than 100 employers and training providers from a wide range of industries, offering attendees the chance to discuss current job vacancies, apprenticeships, traineeships and study options directly with organisations that are actively recruiting.

Attendees will also be able to access free resume reviews and interview practice sessions on the day, helping them improve their job-readiness, confidence and presentation skills. Interactive exhibits and immersive displays will showcase different career pathways, including hands-on demonstrations and virtual experiences that bring industries to life.

Throughout the day, industry professionals will take part in Q&A panels, sharing insights into their career journeys, workforce expectations and practical advice for people entering or re-entering the workforce.

The Hobart and Southern Tasmania Employment & Careers Expo is suitable for people at all stages of their working life, including school leavers, people returning to work, career changers and those seeking new training or upskilling opportunities.

Mayor Sue Hickey said the Expo plays an important role in helping people build long-term, meaningful careers.

“The word career is particularly important,” Mayor Hickey said.

“This Expo isn’t just about finding a job for today – it’s about helping people build a sustainable and rewarding career for tomorrow.”

Deputy Hobart Lord Mayor Dr Zelinda Sherlock has reinforced the importance of this event.

“We are supporting this expo because we want every member of our community to feel connected to opportunity, supported in their goals, and confident about their future.”

“By bringing employers, trainers and jobseekers together in one welcoming space, this event strengthens our community, opens doors and helps build a thriving, inclusive Hobart for everyone.”

The event will be held from 10:00am to 4:00pm, with free parking available at the venue and a free shuttle service operating between Glenorchy Bus Mall and MyState Bank Arena.

Attendance is free and no registration is required.
